

Multisensory Research at Vanderbilt

Autism Research

Now Recruiting:

Children and young adults (ages 8-21) with autism spectrum disorders and typically developing children/young adults. Must have normal or corrected-to-normal hearing and vision.

We will assess participant's language and ask them to play some computer games.

We are hoping to work with participants with autism who show a wide range of language abilities, including participants with autism who do not yet talk.

You will be compensated for your time.
